

Subject: Wot - no chemical weapons?

Gary,

Enjoyed your interview on Channel four news last night. Agreed with all you said except that I was a little surprised that you almost dismissed CW completely. Time will tell what the CW programme was in 2003. It is likely to be small but not insignificant. The search has yet to truly start and once Dayton gets a grip which he surely will then discoveries will be made. The IISS overall CW assessment that Iraq possesses a few hundred tonnes of agent and a few thousand munitions remains a distinct possibility. Iraq had a policy of fill to use and I wonder how many unfilled CW munitions have already been missed by the 75th.

I would love to catch up with you but I am travelling a lot over the next few weeks so I will check with Kristina on your whereabouts when I am in UK for a while.

Best wishes,

David

---

This e-mail has been scanned for viruses by an external anti virus agency

---

This e-mail is only intended to be read by the named addressees. It may contain information that is confidential, proprietary or subject to legal privilege. If an addressing or transmission error has misdirected this e-mail, please notify the author by replying to this e-mail. If you are not the intended recipient you must delete this e-mail and not use, disclose, distribute, copy, print or rely on the contents of this e-mail. Legal privilege is not waived because you have read this e-mail.

COM/4/0106

28/08/2003