Dear David (Dai),

I am prompted to write because I imagine you are finding the present situation rather trying

When the inspections in Iraq were in progress we were always looking out to see you on the news. We did not manage that but were pleased to read an article in the Times where you figured prominently

I hope that apart from this current problem you and your family are prospering [Redacted]

You are obviously extremely busy at the moment but when the current crisis is over and [Redacted] by the autumn I hope, then it would be fun to arrange a meeting or a visit

Best wishes,

Geeth and Christine
